Learning a First Language: Selected Poems and Prose

By Ellen Ray

iUniverse, United States, 2007. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 216 x 140 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Learning a First Language is a complex and beautifully crafted collection of skillfully interwoven poetry and prose that explores the themes of memory, regret, hope and the relationship between art and passion. It begins with love, a reactionary stream of consciousness poem written in response to an unexpected and unsolicited marriage proposal, and ends with the final chapter of the author's meandering narrative account of a character known only as The Artist. His story twists and turns its way through the text, shedding light on both the inspirations and contrary emotions that shape Ray's poetry. Blending elements of fiction and memoir, this collection provides readers not only with a glimpse into the author's personal experiences with love and loss, but also with a universal love story that reminds us of the importance and necessity of loving with abandon.

Reviews

This pdf is wonderful. It is definitely simplified but excitement from the 50 percent in the ebook. You won't sense monotony at any time of your time (that's what catalogues are for relating to should you request me).
